This professor is a breath of fresh air from the sad monotone professors that usually teach at CSULA. His class is efficiently mapped out from week one to finals and every week we have questions to guide us with our reading. His lectures allows for students to participate and listen to his lectures as he uses PowerPoint as a guide to help us follow his verbal lectures. He goes over our reading everyday of class to ensure proper understanding of the material and gives us study guides during class so when midterms and finals come around we have sufficient resources to study and succeed. 10/10 would take the class again: as I already have.

Great professor who actually teaches the class. This professor stands up and tries to engage the students in a deep discussion about the books we read and articles we read. He does not try to silence political views that counter his and the rest of the class. The exams are fair.

Professor Torres has repeatedly shown why political science has been a huge part in our lives. He has engaged with his students the most any other of my professors have. Really fun professor and very easy going, yet still provides the class with readings that will challenge the reader to go in depth of what is really being talked about. If lost in the reading or subject, Professor Torres clears it up in class and leaves every student learning more than what they read.
